

The dissolution of the current Broadcast Ownership Rules could be one of the biggest mistakes of this administration. Too much media power in too few hands is very dangerous for a democracy. Please think about this step before we limit our options for information